Followed by Heart Disease, Cured by DR. MILES' HEART CURE.

M. R. C. G. SHULTS, of Winterset, Iowa, inventor and manufacturer of Shults' Safety Whiffletree Coupling, writes of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. "Two years ago an attack of LaGrippe left me with a weak heart. I had run down in flesh to mere skin and bone. I could not sleep lying down for smothering spells; frequent sharp darts of pain and palpitation caused a constant fear of sudden death, nothing could induce me to remain away from home over night. My local physician prescribed Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and in a few days I was able to sleep well and the pains gradually lessened, and finally ceased. I reduced the dose, having gained fifteen pounds, and am now feeling better in every way than I have for years."

Spain Relinquishes Cuba and Cedes Porto Rico and the Philippines.

REJECTS THE PRINCIPLES

Embodied in the American Argument, but Submits Through a Desire to Avoid Bloodshed—Rios is Downcast During the Proceedings. Future Work Outlined.

Paris, Nov. 29.—Spain accepted the United States' offer of $20,000,000 at a joint session of the peace commissions yesterday afternoon, and consented without condition to relinquish Cuba, cede Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippine Islands.

The document presenting this acceptance contained only 300 words. It opened with a reference to the final terms of the United States and said that the Spanish commissioners, after having taken cognizance of the terms proposed by the Americans, replied that their government had tried to give as equitable an answer as possible, but that they were not prepared to commit their government to the acceptance of the principles embodied in the American argument. Spain rejects these principles, the note continues. "As she always has rejected them."

However, the note adds, in her desire for peace she has gone so far as to propose certain compromises which the Americans have always rejected. She has also attempted, it is further asserted, to have submitted to arbitration some of the material particulars upon which two governments differed. These proposals for arbitration, it is added, the Americans had equally rejected.

Compensation inadequate to sacrifice. Spain's reply, in substance, continued by declaring that the United States has offered, as a kind of compensation to Spain, something very inadequate to the sacrifices the latter country makes at this moment and she feels therefore that the United States' proposals cannot be considered just and equitable.

Spain has, however, exhausted all the resources of diplomacy in an attempt to justify her attitude. Seeing that an acceptance of the proposal made to Spain is a necessary condition to a continuance of negotiations and seeing that the resources of Spain are not such as to enable her to re-enter upon war, she is prepared, in her desire to avoid bloodshed and from considerations of humanity and patriotism to submit to the conditions of the conquering nation, however harsh they may be. She is therefore ready to accept the proposals of the American commission as presented at the last sitting.

The reading and translation of the document occupied less than 5 minutes. At the conclusion of the translation the commissioners empowered Senor Ojeda, secretary of the Spanish commission, and Secretary Moore of the American commission, to draw up articles which are to embody the relinquishment of Cuba by Spain and the cession of Porto Rico and the Philippines. These articles, which may be considered as constituting the conditions of peace, will be ready for submission tomorrow.

Rios was Downcast. Senor Montero Rios, the president of the Spanish commission, has usually preceded the presentation of a Spanish communication in writing by verbally summarizing it, but yesterday Senor Rios was silent and unusually grave. His face was deeper lined and he clearly showed the mental strain under which he was laboring, as he approached the final relinquishment of Spain's colonial possessions.

If every man could live an out-door life, passing his time with gun and fishing-rod and canoe, there would be less illness in the world. Unfortunately, the demands of modern civilization will permit very few men to live this ideal, healthful life. Many men have to pass the day shut up in offices and stores, and the nights in close apartments in crowded cities. They get little out-door exercise. One of the results of this unhealthy, sedentary living is the awful prevalence of that dread disease—consumption. One-sixth of all the deaths each year are due to this relentless enemy. Formerly physicians pronounced this disease incurable. It is now generally known that there is a marvelous medicine that for the past thirty years has been curing consumption almost without a failure. It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures 95 per cent. of all cases of consumption, bronchitis, asthma, laryngitis and other diseases of the air-passages. It is the great re-builder. It tears down, carries off and excretes old, inert tissues and replaces them with the firm tissues of health. It restores the lost appetite and attacks the digestion perfect.

Four years ago I had an attack of grip that left my throat and lungs in a bad condition," writes Mrs. Mary Hartman, of 300 Barker St., Mansfield, Ohio. "The doctor said I had disease of the throat and bronchial tubes. I continued to grow worse. I had pain in the upper part of my chest and a severe cough, which grew worse at night and in the morning, with heavy expectoration. I would cough up mucus scales, after which I would experience a burning and smarting sensation in my throat. I took the doctor's prescriptions without number, but they did me no good. I took sixteen bottles of cod liver oil and was as bad as ever. I then took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and three of the 'Pellies.' I began to improve in every way and now enjoy good health and have taken no medicine for over six months."

Without a word Senor Montero Rios produced two typewritten sheets and passed them to the interpreter of the United States commission, Mr. Ferguson, who read them substantially as cabled, the outline of the Spanish document being furnished later to the press by Senor Ojeda.

The commissioners left the foreign office immediately after the secretaries had been directed to prepare the articles of the peace treaty. There was scarcely any conversation between the American and Spanish commissioners after the adjournment.

Among the Americans only the most grave consideration for their Spanish colleagues was apparent. The Spaniards seemed to be relieved at having arrived at the conclusion of a long controversy.

Having embodied in the treaty articles all the protocol questions the two commissions will now enter upon friendly negotiations regarding the matters suggested in the American ultimatum a week ago, matters subsidiary and incidental to the principal provisions which must form part of the peace treaty as finally signed. These include the religious freedom of the Caroline islands as agreed to 12 years ago, the release of political prisoners now held by Spain in connection with the insurrection in Cuba and the Philippines, the taking over of the island of Kusaie or Ualan in the Carolines for a telegraphic and naval station, cable station rights at other points in Spain's jurisdiction and the renewal of certain treaties, previously in force between the United States and Spain, which may have lapsed or been violated by war.

The London Press. London, Nov. 29.—The virtual conclusion of the Paris negotiations receives but small notice from the morning papers, especially in competition with the superior attractions of the Dreyfus and Picquart affairs. Some of the papers ignore it editorially, while those offering any comment merely repeat their former views on a settlement long regarded as a foregone conclusion and universally recognized as the best possible settlement for Spain and the world in general.

The Times in its editorial on the subject refers to the fiscal side of the question and says: "Any administration intrusted with the government of the United States may surely be trusted, without an amendment to the constitution, to administer this bit of external estate for the benefit of the nation as a whole."

The Daily Chronicle says: "America has had her way, and the time of the negotiators has been largely wasted. So far as the decision to annex the Philippines goes, the United States, after some hesitation, have chosen the narrow path of duty which always attracts the brave mind."

NEAR AN END.
What the Commission Is Expected to Do as to Details.

Washington, Nov. 29.—It is the impression at the state department, in the absence of anything save press reports of the proceedings at Paris, that the commission's work is now near an end and that about two weeks' time will suffice to close it up. This idea is based on the belief that, instead of undertaking to arrange the several matters yet to be settled in the treaty of peace, a general clause will be placed in the treaty binding each of the parties to begin negotiations in the near future upon these subjects. Such a clause of necessity must be very carefully drawn in order to insure the United States a resumption of commercial relations with Spain on fair terms with other nations.

It was said that the next step will be to begin negotiations for the acquisition of Ulan in the Caroline islands for a cable station. This is not to be made the subject of a demand upon Spain, but will be an offer in all sincerity to purchase the island at a fair price. It is not in contemplation to take all of the Caroline group.

MADE A RICH FIND

Two Large Veins of Gold and Silver Ore Near El Paso, Tex.

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 29.—Gold has been discovered near El Paso. Two large veins of ore, one of them 47 feet in width, carrying gold, silver and copper, have set the people of that part of the state wild with excitement. The discovery was made by Charles Blanchard, a railroad agent at Fort Hancock. The find was made in the range of mountains on the south side of the Rio Grande river, in Mexico. The ore from the two veins assays $400 in gold and 300 ounces of silver and 30 per cent copper to the ton. Blanchard has resigned his railroad position to develop his mine. The land on which the strike was made lies in the Mexican free zone, and cannot be owned by an alien. In order to possess himself of the claims, Blanchard entered into partnership with Governor Ahumada of Chihuahua and General Hernandez, commander of the Chihuahua military department, and the claims are held in their names.

DYNAMITE EXPLODES

In a House Filled With Ammunition at Havana—Many Killed.

Havana, Nov. 29.—A box of dynamite exploded in a house near the Reina battery, containing cartridges, filled roof high, killing and injuring 40 persons. The presence of such a large quantity of cartridges—known to have been brought recently from the artillery depot—has not been explained. Most of those employed in emptying the cartridges, evidently their only duty on the premises, were boys and girls under 17 years of age and they formed the greatest proportion of the victims. The employment of children in such a dangerous occupation, and the existence of such a large quantity of explosives

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Baltimore, Nov. 29.—Cardinal Gibbons was asked yesterday to affirm or deny the report sent out from Washington that he would for three months in each year make his residence in Washington, in accordance with the wish of the American hierarchy.

"There is absolutely nothing in the statement," said his eminence. He added that there would be no change whatever in the archbishop's residence.

Perry Heath's Estimates.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The annual report of First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath, a portion of which was published a few days ago, was made public in full last night. The total appropriation for the first assistant's office asked for the next fiscal year are $31,025,000, which includes $17,000,000 for salaries of all postmasters and $11,800,000 for clerk hire. The report recommends strict enforcement of the regulation forbidding postmasters to enlarge their salaries and allowances at public expense.

THE GREAT STORM

CAPE COD GRAVEYARD

Is Yet to Hear From—Seventy Lives Known to Be Lost, Which May Be Swelled to One Hundred and Forty If the Steamer Portland Has Gone Down.

Boston, Nov. 29.—It is known definitely that more than 70 lives have been lost in the wreck of tugs, schooners and coal barges during the storm of Saturday night and Sunday and if the steamer Portland has also gone down, as now seems possible, the list of casualties will rise to 140 with over 100 vessels of all descriptions ashore, two score of them to be wrecks and an unknown number probably beneath the waves of Massachusetts bay.

There is scarcely a bay, harbor or inlet from the Penobscot to New London that has not on its shores the bones of some stanch craft while along Massachusetts bay and especially Boston harbor, the beaches are piled high with the wreckage of schooners and coal barges. The record, although hourly lengthening, is still incomplete for that ocean graveyard of Cape Cod is still to be heard from.

The annoyance and inconvenience of the railroad and streetcar embargo, covering the whole of southern New England, sinks into insignificance before the story of destruction wrought by wind and wave, yet it will be many a day before the full import of the disaster is known or even realized.

The islands of Boston harbor are without exception strewn with wrecks and wreckage; no less than 29 vessels are ashore at Gloucester; over 20 in the supposed safe harbor of Vineyard Haven parted their anchorchains and are high and dry on the beach; Nantasket beach saw two schooners and a coalbarge dashed to pieces on its sands, and the rocks of Cohasset claimed a staunch fisherman, Scituate, a well known pilotboat; Manchester, a down east lumberman, while one tug and three barges, known to have been between Cape Cod and Boston, are unaccounted for and probably lost.

The upper harbors of Boston, Salem, Plymouth, Portsmouth, Portland and other places where vessels were supposed to be comparatively safe, were the scenes of numerous collisions between the ships and wharves.

THE PORTLAND.

Feared That She Has Gone to the Bottom With Eighty Souls.

Boston, Nov. 29.—The managers of the Boston and Portland Steamship company stated last night that there are grave doubts as to the safety of the steamer Portland, which sailed from here Saturday night. Every harbor between here and Portland on the north has been heard from and one on the south shore, and in no case has the steamer been seen. The only remaining harbor which she could have reached is Provincetown on Cape Cod, and news from that port is anxiously awaited, as it is still impossible to reach that port by wire. She carried 65 passengers and a crew of 15 men.

The Island City. Vine Yard Haven, Mass., Nov. 29.—It is believed that Captain Nelson of the schooner Island City of Rockland, Me., and his entire crew have perished. The Island City was bound from Liberty, N. J., for Cohasset with a cargo of coal. Nothing has been heard of them.

Other Wrecks.

Cohasset, Mass.—Junia wrecked on Beach Island. Crew of 18 rescued. Had a cargo of 14,000 pounds of fresh fish.

FRENCH CHAMBERS

Sensational Statements by M.
Poincare, a Former Cabinet Member.

Paris, Nov. 29.—The minister of war, M. Freycinet, in the chamber of deputies, yesterday refused to intervene in the Picquart affair, and the house approved the government's declaration regarding the separation of military and civil powers by a vote of 437 to 73.

M. Poincare (Republican) made an impassioned speech, in the course of which he said it was not necessary to confound the army with a few imprudent men. While the members of the courtmartial were above suspicion, the prosecution of Picquart savored of reprisal. [Applause.] Colonel Picquart's secret imprisonment, M. Poincare further asserted, was beyond all precedent, and there were guilty persons, he claimed, who were enjoying scandalous immunity. [Applause.]

"There are other forgers beside Picquart who ought to be prosecuted," exclaimed the deputy. "These injustices will end by exasperating the nation."

M. Poincare, who was minister of public instruction in 1893-95, created a sensation by adding: "We were attacked for the Dreyfus prosecution in 1894, but I learned of the Dreyfus affair through the newspapers." Tremendous applause and uproar followed this assertion.

M. Barthou, who was minister of public works in 1894, here interjected: "I am ready to endorse the words of M. Poincare, which are true."

This called forth more applause and exclamations of "It is absurd," "It is inconceivable." Thereupon M. Poincare added: "The only proof of Dreyfus' guilt in 1894 consisted of the borderline. No cabinet minister, nor even the president of the council of ministers, heard any mention of the confessions Dreyfus is alleged to have made to Captain Lebrun-Renaud." [Applause.]

M. Cavaignac, the former minister of war, said: "General Mercier secured those confessions." General Mercier was minister of war at the time of the Dreyfus trial.

M. Poincare continued: "Captain Lebrun-Renaud, when he was examined by the president of the council, did not mention the Dreyfus confession."

This statement caused applause to break forth from all parts of the house, during which M. Cavaignac tried to speak but was howled down, although one deputy shouted: "Let us hear the hero of the forgery."

M. Poincare concluded by saying: "Silence has weighed upon me, and I am now happy to have had the opportunity to tell what I know of the case." (Renewed applause.)

LAKE SHIPPING

Losses Estimated to Be $2,500,000 on Account of Wreckage.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—A careful estimate of losses to shipping and vessel owners on the great lakes for the record breaking year of 1898 places the probable figures at $2,500,000. This may be increased before the close of navigation, but even without more storms or foundered vessels it will hold first place for losses in the history of lake navigation. The year 1898 had hitherto held the record with a total loss of $2,097,000. It still stands as the closest rival with the memorable season just concluded.

The three big storms of October and November, 1898, have made this an extraordinary year. Added to the individual wrecks that occurred during the season that has concluded the total by an amount estimated to be approximately $1,500,000.

Lake Superior has had a big share of the wrecks, with the straits and narrow passages of the north to increase their totals. Three steamers, the Orr, Tampa and Chisham, went down with a loss of $375,000. The storm of Oct. 25 took about $300,000 in property values and its two sister gales in November each destroyed nearly the same amount.

WILL BE DISCUSSED

Important Legislation That Will Be Taken Up in the Senate.

Cleveland, Nov. 29.—Senator Hanna yesterday in an interview said the Nicaragua canal matter would certainly be taken up by the senate during the coming session.

"This is one of the most important measures in the senate at present," said Mr. Hanna, "and I am sure it will be taken up early. The establishment of a government in the Hawaiian islands will be disposed of. The treaty of peace with Spain will also be discussed and disposed of early."

Asked if he favored increasing the standing army Mr. Hanna said: "I think the army should be increased to 100,000. I believe this matter will be discussed at the short term."

Schooner and Crew Probably Lost.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—The crew of the schooner Ida, it is thought, were all lost when the vessel went ashore in Green bay Saturday night, no tidings having as yet been received from them. The Ida was owned and commanded by Captain Nielsen of Chicago. His steward was S. D. Olsen. The mate and three sailors were new men shipped just before the schooner sailed Friday morning.

EDUCATIONAL

State Board Will Ask a Law Combining Small School Districts.

Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—The state board of education has decided to push a bill before the next legislature to consolidate school districts into larger schools, along the lines of Superintendent Geeting's plan. There are in Indiana 2,000 schools with an attendance less than 20, with average cost of $24.23 a pupil; 1,000 schools with an attendance less than 15, with average cost of $28.50 a pupil; 500 schools with an attendance less than 10, with average cost of over $38.18 a pupil, and 35 schools with an attendance less than five, with average cost of $58.51 a pupil. It has been shown that the per capita expense of educating all the children in the state is $8.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Nov. 29.—William Bonnell, a brother of Postmaster Bonnell, has returned from Alaska, where he spent eight months. He says that the Klondike claims are worked out and that there are no good fields on Copper river. He was along the river from June to September with experienced prospectors, and found no trace of gold. Mr. Bonnell regards the gold business in the northwest as a fraud, so far as practical results are concerned.

Sympathetic Husbands.

The sympathetic tenderness of a loving husband is everything to an expectant mother, especially during her first ordeal. George Layton, Esq., a prominent druggist of Dayton, O., gives the following case:

A customer of mine, whose wife has used four bottles of "Mother's Friend" before confinement, says, after seeing the effects of the remedy, that if she had to go through the ordeal again, and there were but four bottles on the market, and the cost was $100 per bottle, she would have them.

"Mother's Friend" is a scientifically compounded liniment which affords certain relief in the various ailments preceding childbirth, and assures proper elasticity to the cords and muscles involved in the final ordeal.

"Mother's Friend" is sold by druggists, or expressed on receipt of one dollar.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 29 1898

Chas. L. Jewett, who went to the Philippines with General Merritt, has resigned his commission and will return to his home at New Albany.

The United States peace commissioners have won the admiration of the world. They are all able statesmen and diplomats, and are entitled to all the honor the people are bestowing upon them.

The necessity for a cable to Hawaii is so apparent that it is regarded as probable that the bill providing a form of government for Hawaii will also provide for the laying of a cable, which shall be subject to the control of this government, if not actually owned by it. No trouble is anticipated in passing the Hawaiian bill, whether it includes the cable provision or not.

Those democrats who jumped to the conclusion that the announcement that this government would maintain the "open door" policy in the commerce of the Philippines meant that there was to be free trade with the islands simply exposed their ignorance. The term "open door" has long been in use in Europe, and means, not free trade, but an equal footing for all. In other words, all countries will be allowed to trade with the Philippines upon the same conditions.

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver is inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered, you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are disordered, you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good Alternative and Tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at W. F. Peter's Drug Store. 50 cents per bottle.

REEFTON, New Zealand, Nov. 23, '96
I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicines the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than all others makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have placed the bottle beyond the reach of the children.

Compulsory Education Condemned.

ANDERSON, IND., Nov. 25.—A sensation in educational circles of Madison county was sprung today during the midwinter Teachers' Institute by Superintendent J. V. Bush, of the Alexandria city school, declaring that the compulsory education law was a complete failure and that it did not, in any particular, answer the ends for which it was intended. He said that an element was introduced into the schools in the new pupils that was a positive detriment, because they attended under compulsion only and left school as soon as they lawfully could. This, he held, was working an injury in the high schools, because it led other pupils to give up the work before they had completed the course. Superintendent Carr, of Anderson, upheld the law and said it had resulted in a new $35,000 school building in this city.

While the compulsory education law is not perfect it cannot be regarded as a complete failure and should not be repealed. It should be amended inserting features contained in the bill introduced the first day of the session of the legislature 1897, namely, all children from 7 to 14 years of age should be compelled to attend school for the full term, making it the duty of school boards in cities and towns and township trustees to execute the provisions of the law under penalty attached if they refuse or fail to use due diligence in executing the compulsory law. These provisions should be made a part of the law at the coming session of the legislature.

Illustrated Evangelistic Services at the Presbyterian Church.

The pastor and people of the Presbyterian church extend a cordial invitation to the people of Seymour to attend all the illustrated services at the church this week. Mr. McNutt has had years of experience in the right use of the stereopticon both as a pastor and as an evangelist.

During the meetings just closed at Kokomo the church was crowded to its utmost capacity for two weeks. The sermon last night was "The Goal and Mission of Life seen Through a Drop of Water." As a drop of water from out of the ocean by the kiss of the sun falls on the mountain in snow, loosed from its mountain prison starts back to the sea which is its goal, so the soul of a child fresh from God who is its Rome feels at once the drawing of the Divine Spirit. The drop of water not only goes back to the sea, but as it goes scatters blessings on the earth, refreshes the flowers, paints the rainbow, turns the mill wheel, plunging down the cataract gives of its strength for light, heat and power. The soul is drawn to God, goes back to God, but as it goes has its message to scatter blessings like the drop of water.

A special interest each night will be the illustrated Bible readings. Services begin at 7.30.

LINERS LOST AT SEA.

A CAPTAIN'S STORY OF WHO IS OFFENST TO BLAME.

He Also Suggests Why, When an Ocean Steamer Goes Down, Her Commander Is Seldom to Be Found Among Those Who Were Saved.

"There's another side to this question of the criminal carelessness of the commander which we hear so much talk about whenever a liner is lost," said the captain of a big ocean steamship the other day. "It's not the captain who is really to blame in one case out of ten even when he is running his ship at full speed through a fog. It's the public that's to blame, and I'll tell you how it is.

"To begin with, everybody knows of the rivalry between the different lines. Everybody knows what a difference there is, in the estimation of the public, between the rival boats of the same grade which start at the same time and come in 24 hours apart. The man who has traveled by the boat that comes in last is going to say to himself that next time he will go on the So-and-so, which must be a better boat, for didn't she come in a day ahead of the one he came on?"

"The captain of boat No. 1 is a hero for the time being, and the company he works for smiles on him. That he has run all the way at full speed through heavy seas and fogs and has taken all kinds of risks he knows, but he doesn't say anything about that, and the company doesn't, either. They have beaten the other line, and that is enough.

"The captain of boat No. 2, which came in a day behind the other, knows just what is in store for him before he reports at the office of his company. This is about what he hears:

"Why, how is this, Mr. Blank? You came in 24 hours behind the So-and-so. What was the matter anyhow?"

"Well, you see," says the captain, "we had storms part of the way, and when we got to the banks we struck a fog so thick you couldn't see your hand before your face, and we had to run at half speed all day."

"Ahem! One of the owners will say, 'Ahem! It's a bad thing, Mr. Blank, for us to be beaten 24 hours by the So-and-so.'"

"Captain Blank says no more, but feels that he has been reproved, and he remembers it on the next trip. The sea may be running 'mountains high' and the fog may be so thick you can't see the funnel from the bridge, but he is bound to get in on time this trip, and he does. The owners of the line smile on him. So he knows what he is required to do and goes on making record trips.

"It is the public, you see, which the company has got to please if it is to exist, and the captain has to please the company. Some day he does this once too often. He collides with another ship in a fog, maybe, or runs on the rocks. Perhaps the natural love of life or the thought of a helpless family keeps him from deliberately going to the bottom with the ship, but he knows that his career is at an end.

"The board sits on the case, and if there is any evidence to show that the accident was due to the carelessness of the commander in running at full speed in thick weather, or whatever the case may be, he is reprimanded and his certificate suspended for some months at least. When at last he gets the certificate back, it has a hole punched in it.

"Now let us suppose that he has been a faithful servant of the company for a good while, and they like him and decide to transfer him to another ship and give him a chance for existence. This new ship has to be insured, of course, before she goes to sea. The underwriters make their examination and in the course of their inquiries there comes up the question as to who is the captain of the ship.

"When they hear the name, they will probably say: 'Why, let us see! Isn't he the man who sunk the So-and-so? Yes? Oh, we can't take any risks on a ship commanded by Captain Blank! Put another commander in his place and it will be all right.'"

"The company is therefore obliged to dismiss Captain Blank. Then he starts out to find another situation. His certificate, you remember, has a hole in it. He goes to see the owners of another line. As soon as they hear his name they say:

"Oh, yes. Didn't you command the So-and-so?"

"Yes, I commanded that boat."

"Humph! Very sorry, captain, but we haven't anything just now. If we should have anything, we will let you know."

"This scene is repeated at one steamship office after another on both sides of the water."

The captain leaned his elbows on the table. "Do you wonder," he said after a pause, "that generally when a liner is lost at sea her commander isn't among the saved? But mark my words," he added, rising, "in almost every disaster, when the cry of negligence is loudest, it's the public that's to blame and not the captain, who only does what he is obliged to do."—New York Sun.

Meant What He Said.

"Yes," said Mr. Jones, when a certain girl's name had been mentioned, "I know her to speak to, but not by sight."

"You mean," cut in the prompt corrector—"you mean that you know her by sight, but not to speak to."

"Do?" asked Mr. Jones anxiously.

"Of course you do. You have seen her so often that you know who she is, but have never been introduced to her. Isn't that it?"

"No, that isn't it. I never saw her at all to know her, but I speak to her nearly every day."

"How can that be?"

"She is the telephone girl at central."—Harper's Bazar.

Long Irritation

Is the forerunner to consumption. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey will cure it and give such strength to the lungs that a cough or cold will not settle there. Twenty-five cents at all good drug stores.

Parsnip Complexion.

It does not require an expert to detect the sufferer from kidney trouble. The hollow cheeks, the sunken eyes, the dark, puffy circles under the eyes, the sallow parsnip-colored complexion indicates it.

A physician would ask if you had rheumatism, a dull pain or ache in the back or over the hips, stomach trouble, desire to urinate often, or a burning or scalding in passing it; if after passing there is an unsatisfied feeling as if it must be at once repeated, or if the urine has a brick dust deposit or strong odor.

When these symptoms are present, no time should be lost in removing the cause.

Delay may lead to gravel, catarrh of the bladder, inflammation, causing stoppage, and sometimes requiring the drawing of the urine with instruments or may run into Bright's Disease, the most dangerous stage of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, is a positive remedy for such diseases. Its reputation is world-wide and it is so easy to get at any drug store that no one need suffer any length of time for want of it.

However, if you prefer to first test its wonderful merits, mention the Seymour REPUBLICAN and write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. for a sample bottle and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

COURIERS BACK NUMBERS.

No Longer Any Need to Go Through Europe With Them.

Up to times within the memory of living men almost no one of means traveled through Europe without a courier. Before railroads were built and before good guidebooks were printed he was almost indispensable. His tribe survives, but in greatly diminished numbers. To the self-reliant traveler he is of no use whatever. Indeed he is frequently a positive incumbrance, and worse. To my mind one of the great pleasures of travel is in learning to travel by myself. There are satisfaction, pleasure and education in planning routes, deciphering time tables, making bargains, learning by observation the lay of the land.

The time may have been when a courier could save a traveler more than his cost. Most certainly that is not the case now. On the contrary, as he gets a percentage on every purchase his party makes, which, of course, comes out of the purchaser in increased price, and as it is often for his interest to advise the more costly route, the more costly hotel or the more costly excursion, he eats up much more than his wages, while saving positively nothing. Bean declares that in a two weeks' trip in southern Spain, which he made side by side with a couple having a courier, he invariably reached the hotel first, got better rooms and saw all the sights to as good advantage, yet the courier was, of his kind, an expert. The fact is that travel has become so general, tourist companies, railroads and landlords have so well studied its needs, books are so plentiful, that you couldn't very well get off the track or have a mishap if you tried.—Herbert Luce in "Going Abroad."

A BUSINESS PARABLE.

You Cannot Fail to Appreciate the Point In This Story.

Once a farmer had 1,800 bushels of wheat, which he sold not to a single grain merchant, but to 1,800 different dealers, a bushel each. A few of them paid him in cash, but far the greater number said it was not convenient then; they would pay later. A few months passed, and the man's bank account ran low. "How is this?" he said. "My 1,800 bushels of grain should have kept me in affluence until another crop is raised, but I have parted with the grain and have instead only a vast number of accounts, so small and scattered that I cannot get around and collect fast enough to pay expenses."

So he posted up a public notice and asked all those who owed him to pay quickly. But few came. The rest said, "Mine is only a small matter, and I will go and pay one of these days," forgetting that though each account was very small, when all were put together they meant a large sum to the man. Things went on thus. The man got to feeling so badly that he fell out of bed and awoke, and running to his granary found his 1,800 bushels of wheat still safe there. He had only been dreaming.

Moral.—The next day the man went to the publisher of his paper and said: "Here, sir, is the pay for your paper, and when next year's subscription is due you can depend on me to pay it promptly. I stood in the position of an editor last night, and I know how it feels to have one's honestly earned money scattered all over the country in small amounts."—Union Signal.

SHE GOT THE BREAD.

Cham Clark's Story of Judge Powers and His Pension Plan.

Psychologists say that everything that a man does in this life leaves its impress on his character and is mirrored in his countenance. Washington correspondents declare that they can pick out the ex-judges in congress from their peculiar stately manner of speaking.

I am equally sure that I can spot the ex-prosecuting attorneys from the savage style in which they marshal their facts for a conviction. Habit is second nature, so it is said, and the truth is that the only way in which an old prosecuting attorney ever defends a client is by prosecuting somebody else—generally the witness for the state. But ex-judges are not such "dry as dusts" as some people believe.

Long wrestling with intricate technicalities does not necessarily kill their sense of humor. For instance, Judge Powers of Vermont, who has sat nearly a score of years on the supreme bench and who had the ideal judicial cast of features and the severest judicial manner, could enliven the proceedings when he chose. One morning he was up making a speech advocating a pension for some old widow up in the Green mountains, and he began quoting the lines from Sir Walter Scott which all of us have declaimed when children:

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said—

When he had got that far along, I wondered how he was going to make the application or how he would wind up. This is the way he did it—he improvised a line of his own and made it read as follows:

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said
I'll jump at the chance to give that old woman a bread?

The house jumped, and she got the bread.—Cham Clark in St. Louis Republic.

The Old Man's Opinion.

"Father!" began Johnnie.

"Stop your noise," snapped Mr. Woodie, rattling his paper.

"Do you think?" said Johnnie.

"Think nothing," snorted the old man. "You've broken into my reading 40 times tonight. Why don't you shut your head and quit bothering?"

"Can't I ask you one question?" snivelled Johnnie.

"What is it?" demanded his father violently. "What is it you've got to know that's so vital you can't let me have a minute's quiet with my paper?"

"Teacher told us to ask it," sniffed Johnnie.

"Well, out with it, then," commanded the old man impatiently. "What is it?"

"Do you think," said Johnnie, "that Niagara can be dammed?"

Mr. Woodie flung his paper to the floor and ground his heel into it savagely.

"It can for all of me!" he roared.—New York World.

The Dentist's Presence of Mind.

"Talk of presence of mind," said Fogg. "Did I ever tell you of Pollyhard, the dentist? No? Well, he was down in Florida, and falling into the river, one of the biggest alligators you ever saw made for him. In an instant poor Pollyhard was in the reptile's jaw, and in another moment the life would have been crushed out of him. But when Pollyhard saw the creature's teeth, he pulled out a probe he always carried with him, and, pressing it into the gator's gums, he asked, 'Do you feel that?' Of course the reptile screamed with pain, and of course he spat Pollyhard out as quick as he would a hot potato."

"Yes," said Bass, after ruminating upon the story, "but I shouldn't have called that presence of mind, but a slavish devotion to one's profession."

"That's what I always contended," replied Fogg, "but Pollyhard would have it that it was presence of mind."—Boston Transcript.

Self Reliant.

With a low cry, she buried her face in his bosom.

"Do not leave me," she cried, clinging to him frantically.

Nor did he. If he had, she would have broken her neck. But that was only at first. In the course of six or seven weeks she could ride her wheel with the instructor at the other end of the hall.—Detroit Tribune.

STATE'S BRIEF FILED TODAY.

Attorney General Taylor has filed the brief in the case against Policeman John H. Hopewell, who was indicted on the charge of failure to do his duty on the night of Oct. 19, 1897, when Alex. A. Davidson was pursued by a crowd of boys and probably by some thoughtless men, and made to think he was in danger. Hopewell's attorneys contend in their brief that the indictment is not good and make a strong argument to sustain their position.

Christian Church.

Because of previous arrangements I regret very much that I can remain no longer than this evening with the Christian church. But I desire to take this opportunity to state to the people of Seymour and community that after visiting most of the families represented in the congregation, I have found them to be consecrated to the cause of Christ, and as a family of God living in peace and laboring for the advancement of his family, and the extending of the borders of His kingdom. All the members as far as we are able to ascertain are in harmony one with another, and in perfect sympathy with the official board of the church. The church is now endeavoring to find a minister who will locate in the city and devote his entire time to the pastoral work of the congregation, and they expect to have a minister by the beginning of the next year.

Dressing Well

Is a science—it requires lots of study and thought. It requires a little time and trouble—looking about—finding the store which offers the best values. Don't you know some man who always looks particularly well? Why do you suppose it is? It's because he understands the art of dressing—because he appreciates a good tailor, and orders here year after year. We have spent lots of time, money and brains, in making this establishment what it is, but we have never had cause to regret it.

Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy dough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. A any mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy on hand and find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

What do the Children Drink.
Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more GRAIN-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee but costs about 1/4 as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. For sale by C. W. Mil-

I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medi-especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than all others makes for the pre-

The Gold That Glitters.
DO RICHES MAKE HAPPINESS, OR DOES HEALTH MAKE WEALTH?
The richest man cannot always be said to be the most successful, for true success is not possible without happiness. Many a wealthy man would give all he now possesses to have the health and happiness of a young athlete.
Health is not hard to get and keep if good judgment is used in caring for and supplying the needs of the system.
Nature often needs assistance; you sometimes abuse nature by overtaxing
your nerves, your brain, or your body, and you haven't time to relax, and take the rest that you need. You must have outside help. Pabst Malt Extract,
The "Best" Tonic, will supply the extra fuel, food, and strength; it is absolutely pure—an unequalled assistant to nature in giving health, vitality and strength. It will make you eat and sleep well, and cause you to feel like yourself again, or perhaps, better than you ever felt in your life. The "Best" Tonic was awarded the 100 points of perfection at the World's Fair, and was the only Malt Extract which received that honor. Your nearest druggists carry Pabst Malt Extract, The "Best"
Tonic in stock.

TOURISTS ABROAD.
The Money They Spend Amounts to $700,000,000 A Year.
The amount of money expended by tourists in Europe has, if official records abroad are to be accepted as authentic,
increased enormously of late years.
There has been recently filed with the Swiss minister of finance and customs at Bern a detailed statement of hotel receipts in that country, from which it appears that the gross receipts of Swiss hotels rose from 62,800,000 francs in 1880 to 114,333,000 in 1894. The entire annual expenses of the Swiss republic amount in a year to between 80,000,000 and 90,000,000 francs (the budget for this year is given at the latter figure),
and it would seem, therefore, very much as if the hotels of Switzerland take in in a year more than the government itself does.
The Swiss figures are not the only ones furnished in Europe recently on this point. A French record shows that every year there are 270,000 foreigners who pass from a fortnight to a whole winter on the Riviera. Every person is supposed to expend on an average 1,000 francs, or $200, in the country. In other words, the foreign visitors spend in the country every winter the sum of $54,000,000. The English are put down as contributing one-third of this amount;
the French themselves contribute another third; Germans, Belgians, Dutch, Russians and Americans contribute the remainder. From being a poor country when it was annexed to France in 1860 Nice has become one of the richest departments of the republic.
Some figures recently compiled of the revenues to hotels from tourists in Paris show the average number of foreign visitors to be 60,000. It is customary to estimate at 10 francs, or $2, a day
the hotel bills of strangers in Paris.
Estimating at $2 a day each the hotel bills of 60,000 tourists and at about as much more their other outlays it is to be seen that tourists in Paris can be put down for an expenditure of nearly $250,- 000 a day.
The total sum expended by tourists in Europe in a year is probably not very far from $700,000,000, and a very considerable portion of this comes from the pockets, the purses and the bankers'
balances of Americans, who are proverbially the most liberal among travelers. Russians come second, Brazilians third.—Exchange.

SLEEPWALKING.
Strange Things Men Do While in a State of Somnambulism.
Readers of that charming work of my late friend Wilkie Collins, "The Moon-stone," will remember the sleepwalk-ing feats of Mr. Franklin Blake when under the influence of an opiate. What the novelist describes as a piece of fiction may be paralleled from the sober records of science.
McNish, in his classic volume on "Sleep," tells us of a shepherd lad who, wrapped in slumber, walked miles to the place where his flock was pastured, waded through a river and returned home without waking. In another case a lad in his sleep scaled a precipitous cliff and brought home from it an eagle's nest, which was found under his bed in the morning.
Abercrombie's case of the Scottish lawyer who, when worried over a perplexing case, was seen by his wife to rise from his bed in the night is another illustration of the occasionally purposive character of somnambulism,
when, directed by its private secretaries,
the sleeping ego is apparently roused from its couch and made to act the part of a pure automaton. This individual went to a writing desk which stood in his bedroom, sat down before the desk and wrote for some time. Then, replacing the paper within the desk, he returned to bed.
In the morning he told his wife of a dream he had experienced, in which he imagined he had given a satisfactory opinion on the case which was troubling his mind. He expressed regret that he could not recall the train of thought represented in his dream. On his wife directing him to his writing desk, he found therein the opinion in question clearly written out and in every respect satisfactory.—Andrew Wilson, M. D., in Harper's Magazine.

Lady of the House (to servant girl applying for a situation)—You were in the service of my friend, Baroness K.
Why were you sent away?
Servant—Please, ma'am, for listening at the doors.
Lady—Ah, then I will take you, only you must promise to tell me all you heard.—London Fun.

INDICTMENTS REINSTATED
Express Robbers Farden and Barnett

For the 161st Regiment.
Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—As shown by returns made to the auditor of state by the county auditors the values in the state are as follows: Value of lands, $453,106,683; value of improvements on lands, $89,184,578; values of lots, $151,- 351,801; improvements on lots, $167,364,- 133; value of personals, $289,304,483.
This is, according to 1897, a decrease in lands of $321,050 and increase of $4,- 964,967 in improvements, an increase of $133,581,000 is shown in lots, an increase

als. A total increase of $20,309,792 is shown.
WITH EIGHTY RECRUITS
Captain Stott of 161st Indiana Leaves
For Savannah—New Chaplain.
Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—Captain W. T.
Stott of the One Hundred and Sixty-first Indiana regiment has left for Savannah with 80 recruits for the regiment—the men transferred from other Indiana regiments to the One Hundred and Sixty-first. The captain was informed just before he started south that the regiment would probably get away from Savannah for Cuba on Dec. 14.
Governor Mount late yesterday afternoon appointed Rev. W. J. Vigus of this city as chaplain of the One Hundred and Sixty-first Indiana regiment, to succeed Rev. W. D. Weaver of Marion, resigned. Rev. Mr. Vigus is a minister in the Methodist church, who has occupied many pulpits in central and northern Indiana. He has three sons in the army and was himself a soldier in the civil war.

WILL BE TRIED.
Express Robbers Farden and Barnett
Must Answer a Second Time.
Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 29.—A representative of the Adams Express company was here yesterday and succeeded in inducing Prosecutor Beal to move to reinstate the indictments against "Don" Farden and Bob Barnett, who robbed the office of $10,000, and for which they are serving a 5-years' term, now nearly expired, in the Michigan City prison, on a plea of guilty in the United States court.
The indictments were dismissed by Prosecutor Tichenor just before he retired from office a few days ago. They were reinstated because of a legal fault in Tichenor's motion. The $16,000 was government money, and the indictments in the state court were for stealing other money, but of much less amount.

French Precautionary Measure.
Washington, Nov. 29.—M. Thiebaut, charge d'affaires of France, called at the state department yesterday to advise Secretary Hay that the French government was about to adopt precautionary measures against the introduction from this country of the San Jose scale, and that decrees will be issued prohibiting the importation of trees, shrubs and plants from the United States, and requiring an inspection of all fruits, fresh and dried, at the point of landing in France.

Knights Templar Found Dead.
Marion, Ind., Nov. 29.—E. Jay Hale, traveling for the Ellis Publishing company of Battle Creek, Mich., was found dead in his room at the Burrier House yesterday. There was nothing in the room indicating suicide. He was attired in his night robe, and a book,
which he evidently had been reading,
was lying by his side. He was a Knight Templar, belonging to Damascus commandery, Detroit, Mich.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY
REVIEW OF REVIEWS

It is impossible to promise particular features that will appear in the "AMERICAN MONTHLY" during the coming year, for it is, as the Bookman says, "a great monthly newspaper." As such, it prints for its readers an illustrated account of the notable things which make the history of the month, of the political, the economic, and literary happenings which are of value to intelligent men and women. The Editor's "Progress of the World" tells succinctly an illustrated story of the month. The "Leading Articles" give the best thought and information of the current magazines in five contents; the contributed articles furnish the character sketches of the man of the month, and give timely discussions by authorities on any question of immediate serious import.

The result of this comprehensive effort to edit in one monthly volume the information needed by intelligent people of "live" instincts is best gauged in the opinions which the readers of the AMERICAN MONTHLY have seen fit to express. These are thinking business men, clerymen, editors, lawyers, professors, engineers, the wide-awake women of America. They write that the AMERICAN MONTHLY "is indispensable"; "is simply invaluable"; "is a generous library in itself"; is
"a historical cyclopedia of the world"; "the best means of aid for a busy man";
"the best periodical of the kind we have ever had"; "a triumph of editorial genius"; "the world under a field-glass," etc., etc.

and to a great extent loss of hearing.
By the use of Ely's Cream Balm dropping of mucus has ceased, voice and hearing have greatly improved.—J.
